10 Case No. 15-cv-03364-JST (PR)

13 ORDER OF SERVICE; DENYING 14 REQUEST FOR APPOINTMENT OF 15 COUNSEL
16
17

18 Plaintiff, an inmate at San Quentin State Prison ("SQSP"), filed this pro se civil rights
19 action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 alleging that he has been provided inadequate medical care for pain 20 in his back, right shoulder, and right knee. This case is now before the Court for initial review of 21 the pleadings pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A. Plaintiff is granted leave to proceed in forma 22 pauperis by separate order.

23 DISCUSSION

24 A. Standard of Review

25 Federal courts must engage in a preliminary screening of cases in which prisoners seek 26 redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C.
27 § 1915A(a). The court must identify cognizable claims or dismiss the complaint, or any portion of 28 the complaint, if the complaint "is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted," or "seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief." Id.
Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990).

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(2) requires only "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief." "Specific facts are not necessary; the 1 statement need only "give the defendant fair notice of what the . . . claim is and the grounds upon 2 which it rests." Erickson v. Pardus, 127 S. Ct. 2197, 2200 (2007) (citations omitted). Although in 3 order to state a claim a complaint "does not need detailed factual allegations, . . . a plaintiff's 4 obligation to provide the grounds of his 'entitle[ment] to relief' requires more than labels and 5 conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do. . . .

6 Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level." Bell
7 Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 127 S. Ct. 1955, 1964-65 (2007) (citations omitted). A complaint
8 must proffer "enough facts to state a claim for relief that is plausible on its face." Id. at 1974.

9 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements:
10 (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that 11 the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v.
12 Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

13 B. Legal Claims

14 Deliberate indifference to serious medical needs violates the Eighth Amendment's 15 proscription against cruel and unusual punishment. Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104 (1976).
16 A "serious medical need" exists if the failure to treat a prisoner's condition could result in further 17 significant injury or the "unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain." McGuckin v. Smith, 974
18 F.2d 1050, 1059 (9th Cir. 1992) (citing Estelle, 429 U.S. at 104), overruled in part on other 19 grounds by WMX Technologies, Inc. v. Miller, 104 F.3d 1133, 1136 (9th Cir. 1997) (en banc). A 20 prison official is "deliberately indifferent" if he knows that a prisoner faces a substantial risk of 21 serious harm and disregards that risk by failing to take reasonable steps to abate it. Farmer v.
22 Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 837 (1994).

23 Neither negligence nor gross negligence warrant liability under the Eighth Amendment.
24 Id. at 835-36 & n4. An "official's failure to alleviate a significant risk that he should have 25 perceived but did not, . . . cannot under our cases be condemned as the infliction of punishment."
26 Id. at 838. Instead, "the official's conduct must have been 'wanton,' which turns not upon its effect 27 on the prisoner, but rather, upon the constraints facing the official." Frost v. Agnos, 152 F.3d
28 1124, 1128 (9th Cir. 1998) (citing Wilson v. Seiter, 501 U.S. 294, 302-03 (1991)). Prison officials

1 violate their constitutional obligation only by "intentionally denying or delaying access to medical 2 care." Estelle, 429 U.S. at 104-05.

3 According to the complaint and exhibits attached thereto, plaintiff suffers from pain in his 4 lower back, right knee, and right shoulder. He has been diagnosed with minimal degenerative disk
5 disease in his back, abnornmal medial meniscus in his right knee, and right shoulder bursitis. In 6 2007, he was referred to a pain management program by an orthopedic specialist. Over the next 7 several years, he received steroid injections and received various pain medications including 8 morphine and ibuprofen. Beginning in 2014 and continuing into 2015, plaintiff's primary care
9 provider, defendant Dr. Leighton, tapered plaintiff off his injections and pain medications.
10 Defendant J. Lewis, Deputy Director of California Correctional Healthcare Services, and 11 defendant Dr. E. Tootell, SQSP Chief Medical Officer, proceeded to deny plaintiff's inmate 12 healthcare appeals requesting to have his pain medication restored, to be removed from Dr.
13 Leighton's care, and to receive a consultation with a private doctor. Plaintiff alleges that the 14 decision was the result of statewide cost reductions in inmate medications, which mainly included
15 opioids and narcotic medications. These claims, liberally construed, state a claim of deliberate 16 indifference against Dr. Leighton, Dr. Tootell, and J. Lewis.

17 The potential liability of defendants Dr. Tootell and J. Lewis who allegedly reviewed and 18 rejected plaintiff's inmate appeals is under the Eighth Amendment, and is not under the Fourteenth 19 Amendment's Due Process Clause. There is no constitutional right to a prison or jail 20 administrative appeal or grievance system in California, and therefore no due process liability for 21 failing to process or decide an inmate appeal properly. See Ramirez v. Galaza, 334 F.3d 850, 860
22 (9th Cir. 2003); Mann v. Adams, 855 F.2d 639, 640 (9th Cir. 1988). It is alleged here, however,
23 that by denying or improperly handling such appeals, defendants Dr. Tootell and J. Lewis denied 24 medical care that plaintiff alleges was sorely needed. Thus, it is for the denial of medical care that 25 these defendants may be held liable, not simply for denying administrative appeals.

26 In addition to the defendants discussed above, plaintiff names as a defendant SQSP
27 Warden Ronald Davis. A supervisor may be liable under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 upon either a showing 28 of the supervisor's personal involvement in the constitutional deprivation or a sufficient causal

1 connection between the supervisor's wrongful conduct and the constitutional violation. Redman v.
2 County of San Diego, 942 F.2d 1435, 1446 (9th Cir. 1991) (en banc). Consequently, a supervisor
3 generally "is only liable for constitutional violations of his subordinates if the supervisor
4 participated in or directed the violations, or knew of the violations and failed to act to prevent 5 them." Taylor v. List, 880 F.2d 1040, 1045 (9th Cir. 1989). Under no circumstances is there
6 respondeat superior liability under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, i.e., under no circumstances is there liability
7 under § 1983 solely because one is responsible for the actions or omissions of another. Id.

8 Here, none of the allegations in the second amended complaint link Davis to any of 9 plaintiff's claims. In particular, there is no indication that Davis either knew of or personally
10 participated in the denial of health care to plaintiff. Accordingly, plaintiff's claim of respondeat 11 superior liability against Davis will be dismissed. If plaintiff can allege facts to establish 12 supervisorial liability against Davis, he may move to amend his pleadings.

13 C. Request for Appointment of Counsel

14 Plaintiff has requested appointment of counsel. Dkt. No. 14. A district court has the 15 discretion under 28 U.S.C. §1915(e)(1) to designate counsel to represent an indigent civil litigant 16 in exceptional circumstances. See Wilborn v. Escalderon, 789 F.2d 1328, 1331 (9th Cir. 1986).
17 This requires an evaluation of both the likelihood of success on the merits and the ability of the 18 plaintiff to articulate his claims pro se in light of the complexity of the legal issues involved. See 19 id. Neither of these factors is dispositive and both must be viewed together before deciding on a 20 request for counsel under section 1915(e)(1). To date, plaintiff has been able to present his claims 21 in an adequate manner and there are no exceptional circumstances warranting appointment of 22 counsel at this time. Should the circumstances of the case materially change, the Court may 23 reconsider plaintiff's request sua sponte. The request for appointment of counsel is therefore 24 DENIED.

25 CONCLUSION

26 For the foregoing reasons,

27 1. Plaintiff's complaint states a cognizable Eighth Amendment claim for deliberate 28 indifference to serious medical needs as against Dr. Leighton, Dr. Tootell, and J. Lewis. The 1 Clerk shall terminate defendant Ronald Davis.

2 2. Plaintiff's request for appointment of counsel is DENIED.

3 3. The Clerk shall issue summons and the United States Marshal shall serve, without 4 prepayment of fees, a copy of the complaint and a copy of this order upon the following 5 defendants at SQSP: Dr. Leighton, Dr. E. Tootell, and J. Lewis.

6 The Clerk shall also mail a courtesy copy of the amended complaint and this order to the 7 California Attorney General's Office.

8 4. In order to expedite the resolution of this case, the Court orders as follows:

9 a. No later than 91 days from the date this order is filed, defendants must file
10 and serve a motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion. A motion for summary 11 judgment also must be accompanied by a Rand notice so that plaintiff will have fair, timely and 12 adequate notice of what is required of him in order to oppose the motion. Woods v. Carey, 684
13 F.3d 934, 939 (9th Cir. 2012) (notice requirement set out in Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952 (9th 14 Cir. 1998), must be served concurrently with motion for summary judgment).¹

15 If defendants are of the opinion that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment, 16 defendants must so inform the Court prior to the date the motion is due.

17 b. Plaintiff's opposition to the summary judgment or other dispositive motion 18 must be filed with the Court and served upon defendants no later than 28 days from the date the 19 motion is filed. Plaintiff must bear in mind the notice and warning regarding summary judgment 20 provided later in this order as he prepares his opposition to any motion for summary judgment.

21 c. Defendants shall file a reply brief no later than 14 days after the date the 22 opposition is filed. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due. No 23 hearing will be held on the motion.

24

25 ¹ If defendants assert that plaintiff failed to exhaust his available administrative remedies as 26 required by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a), defendants must raise such argument in a motion for summary
27 judgment, pursuant to the Ninth Circuit's recent opinion in Albino v. Baca, 747 F.3d 1162 (9th Cir.
28 2014) (en banc) (overruling Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1119 (9th Cir. 2003), which held that failure to exhaust available administrative remedies under the Prison Litigation Reform Act, should be raised by a defendant as an unenumerated Rule 12(b) motion). Such a motion should also incorporate a modified Wyatt notice in light of Albino. See Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120, n.14 (9th Cir. 2003); Stratton v. Buck, 697 F.3d 1004, 1008 (9th Cir. 2012).

1 5. Plaintiff is advised that a motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the 2 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case. Rule 56 tells you what you must 3 do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be 4 granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact – that is, if there is no real dispute about 5 any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is 6 entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing 7 makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn 8 testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out
9 specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, 10 as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendants' declarations and 11 documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit 12 your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you.
13 If summary judgment is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial. Rand v.
14 Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 962-63 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc) (App. A).

15 (The Rand notice above does not excuse defendants' obligation to serve said notice again 16 concurrently with a motion for summary judgment. Woods, 684 F.3d at 939).

17 6. All communications by plaintiff with the Court must be served on defendants'
18 counsel by mailing a true copy of the document to defendant's counsel. The Court may disregard 19 any document which a party files but fails to send a copy of to his opponent. Until defendants' 20 counsel has been designated, plaintiff may mail a true copy of the document directly to 21 defendants, but once defendants are represented by counsel, all documents must be mailed to 22 counsel rather than directly to defendants.

23 7. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
24 No further court order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(a)(2) or Local Rule 16 is required 25 before the parties may conduct discovery.

26 8. Plaintiff is responsible for prosecuting this case. Plaintiff must promptly keep the 27 Court informed of any change of address and must comply with the Court's orders in a timely 28 fashion. Failure to do so may result in the dismissal of this action for failure to prosecute pursuant

1 to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b). Plaintiff must file a notice of change of address in every 2 pending case every time he is moved to a new facility.

3 9. Any motion for an extension of time must be filed no later than the deadline sought 4 to be extended and must be accompanied by a showing of good cause.

5 10. Plaintiff is cautioned that he must include the case name and case number for this 6 case on any document he submits to the Court for consideration in this case.

7 IT IS SO ORDERED.
